Natchez, MS: The Adams County Sheriff's Office has become a partner with Pacer's National Bullying Prevention Center. Bullying is a behavior that hurts, harms, or humiliates someone physically or emotionally. One out of five students is bullied and chances are very good that it is happening to someone you know and care about. Bullying prevention should be a community-wide effort and ACSO has pledged to help with education and awareness as well as promoting a shared conversation and response to bullying in which everyone works together to create safe environments for students.
